I understand that the Internet can provide students with valuable learning experiences.

I also understand that:

• the school cannot control what is on those computers; and
• a very small part of that information can be illegal, dangerous or offensive

I accept that, while teachers will always exercise their duty of care, protection against exposure to harmful information should depend finally upon responsible use by students. (Please complete this form ONLY if you are a Defence Force Family)

Are you a Defence Family?
If you are please read on, fill in the form below and return it to the office. Mundingburra State School employs a Defence School Transition Aide. (DSTA)

What does a DSTA do?
The DSTA is a teacher's aide but is here to assist students and their (defence) families as they relocate to a new school. Such help includes:

- organise activities which welcome and farewell ADF families and help them settle into the new school community.
- assist the school to understand the needs of ADF families and their children
- assist students and parents if ADF members are deployed
- provide information on the Defence Community Organisation (DCO) and its services

Please note – the definition of a Defence student also includes students whose step-parent is an ADF member

Why do we have DSTAs in schools?
Sometimes children have difficulties making new friends, understanding and adjusting to routines and different ways in the new school. The DSTA will assist the children and families become part of the school community more quickly. They are there to liaise between the families, the school and the Defence community.
